ITEM DETAILS

The Recreation Commission policies are outdated and require review and revision. Many of these policies have not been updated in several years. Over the coming months, the Recreation and Parks Department will conduct a comprehensive review of a portion of its policies, updating outdated policies and revising language as necessary to ensure clarity and consistency.

Each month, staff will present policies to the Recreation Commission for consideration, including recommendations to revise, replace, or eliminate policies that are no longer needed. The Commission's review and approval will help ensure that all policies remain current, relevant, and aligned with department operations and goals.
